Flavors that make mouths go WOW!

Food flavor is eclectic mix of art and science. The art lies in understanding, decoding and visualizing a fragrance or an aroma. The science lies in creating the same, consistently. At VKL, we have mastered this art and science to create the finest of food flavors for leading domestic and multinational brands.

How we do it

We have a highly application driven approach to developing flavors. We create end products for our customers, which are then tested and sampled for consumer response either by us or by our customers. We have the unique capability to create flavor solutions for niche needs, and process small order quantities while ensuring fast turnaround.

VKL provides niche flavor solutions for savory and ethnic regional food products and profiles across bakery, confectionary, snacks and seasonings.

The BETA chemicals flavor business acquired by VKL, was a pioneer in creating India's leading brands of ethnic snacks, namkeens, beverages and bakery products. We have combined our flavor and seasoning capability to create highly innovative solutions for bakery, savory and snacks.

We supply to over 70% of India's most reputed food and beverage companies and to customers in over 40 countries.
